++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Often rather cloudy, but some sunshine breaking through at times.

Today:
A rather cloudy day, with morning low cloud and hill fog thick enough for some light rain or drizzle in places. Cloud will thin and break throughout the day, bringing an occasional sunnier spell. Maybe the odd light afternoon shower. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Tonight:
Remaining largely dry throughout, with areas of cloud but also some clear spells. Overnight, these may allow patchy frost and fog to form in places. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Monday:
Patchy frost and fog to start in places, as well as some low cloud. Remaining largely dry throughout, with cloud becoming more broken and giving way to afternoon sunny spells. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Cloudy but largely dry Tuesday. A band of rain, heavy at times, moves across the country Wednesday morning, with sunshine following. Becoming more unsettled and windier from Thursday.
